Maria Racariu

Student At Medieinstitutet

I am currently studying web development with a focus on PHP, JavaScript, CSS, and Content Management Systems like Wordpress. I also work with frameworks like Laravel.
My career goal post-degree is to work as a PHP developer in an environment which nurtures my personal and career development. I also have a particular interest in AI and algorithms and their applications in web development.
I will bring to the team a positive attitude and thrive on keeping a good team chemistry. I'm a very creative person, always coming up with new ideas. My outside of the box thinking often leads to radical ideas, designs and breakthrough solutions.
